BIOGRAPHY

Swiss composer and lyricist "Static Dark" was born as Sandro Marc Straub in 1978. Loaded with lots of creative energy but very reluctant when it comes to force the spotlight of the public on himself, Static Dark embraced a working mode not unlike the proverbial "mad scientist", experimenting away in his basement laboratory.

Static Dark's compositions obviously do not wish to comment this so-called "real world", at least not anymore. This kind of person and his music rather exist in their own context, serving their own rules. More importantly, they're not slave to the fads of the time.

Embracing and applying the aforementioned work ethics created this signature style of his: dense, mystical atmospheres embedded in Electronica, that serve to evoke, describe or underline emotions about a specific theme.

So after 10 long years of working in the closet, finally a fracture of him and his creations are slowly finding their way into the great wide open.
